

Third Site: Missile Defense in Europe

Presented By
The Atlantic Council of the United States
And
The Prague Security Studies Institute Washington

April 19th 2007

- 9:15 Coffee and Registration
- 9:45 Welcome by Fred Kempe, President, Atlantic Council and Oldřich Černý, Chairman of the Board, Prague Security Studies Institute Washington
- 9:55 Introduction:
HE Petr Kolář, Ambassador of the Czech Republic to the United States
- 10:00 Address by Hon. Karel Schwarzenberg, Minister of Foreign Affairs, Czech Republic
- 10:30 Presentation: Architecture of the Third Site
Brig. Gen. Patrick O'Reilly, Deputy Director of the Missile Defense Agency
- 11:00 Presentation: The Case for a Third Site
Hon. Robert G. Joseph, Former Under Secretary, Arms Control and International Security, U.S. Department of State
- 11:30 Coffee Break
- 11:45 Presentation: Perspectives on Missile Defense in Europe. Hon. Daniel Fried, Assistant Secretary of State for Europe; Dr. Andrzej Karkoszka, former Polish State Secretary for Defense and Director of the Strategic Defense Review
- 12:45 Lunch and Keynote Speaker:
Hon. Ellen Tauscher, Chair, House Armed Services Committee, Subcommittee on Strategic Forces
- 13:30 Presentation: Is There a Role for NATO
Hon. Robert Bell, former NATO Assistant Secretary General for Defense Support
- 14:15 Concluding Remarks
Jim Townsend, Director, International Security Program, Atlantic Council
Roger W. Robinson Jr., Executive Director, Prague Security Studies Institute Washington